The best part of my relationship with the entire OGQ team is the level of belief and trust we have with each other. They understand my sport very deeply, they know when to give athletes their space and they support unconditionally. I have no doubt that it would have been extremely difficult for me to get this far without the support from OGQ since the time I was 10 years old.

Notes from our Directors

Dear friends,

It's that time of the year when on behalf of the Board and the entire operations team we thank our well wishers and supporters. We also provide details of our work in this APR. OGQ exists for the athletes who we support and this existence is not possible without you. So thank you for ensuring that OGQ continues to exist and more importantly keeps growing to impact more and more athletes and in some ways the sporting ecosystem in our country.

We are all geared up and getting ready for Paris 2024 and the stepping stones to our athletes performances will be how they perform at the Commonwealth Games at Birmingham, UK. We are leaving no stone unturned to provide whatever it takes for our athletes to fulfil their potential and shine with their performances at the greatest sporting spectacle which is held every four years.

Thank you again for your belief in what we do.

Geet Sethi

Co-Founder & Director, OGQ | 9-time World Cue Sports Champion
Khel Ratna and Padma Shri Awardee

As we look back on 2021, I can say it was truly a special year for us at OGQ, not just in terms of the Olympic and Paralympic results which were the best ever for India, but also in terms of overcoming the enormous challenges that the pandemic threw at us. After a year of uncertainty, where many athletes supported by OGQ and our sports science staff on field had suffered the Covid-19 infection just a few months before the Games, the team showed great resilience and courage to hang in there and give their everything at Tokyo. And honestly, that has always been my greatest learning from Sport – To Never Give Up.

This year also marks 10 years of the OGQ Junior Program started in 2012. Two out of the four of the medal winners at Tokyo supported by OGQ have come through the ranks of our OGQ Junior Program. We started supporting P.V. Sindhu when she was just 14 years old and Wrestler Ravi Kumar when he was 16 years old. I congratulate our research team that has developed a thorough and robust methodology to scout the best young talent in the country. Lakshya Sen, now 20 years old is another marquee name who underlines the importance of catching them young. OGQ has been supporting him since he was 10 years old.

Post the Tokyo Olympics, we have scaled up our team, especially the sports science experts. OGQ also continues to work closely with the Sports Authority of India (SAI), Target Olympic Podium Scheme (TOPS) & National Sports Federations.

I extend my huge gratitude to all our donors for continuing to show your unflinching support and faith in us. There are now less than two years to go to the Paris 2024 Olympics. We will stay focused as always.

The Idea and Inception of OGQ:

The idea of OGQ was born in Geet Sethi's mind on a flight from Sydney to Mumbai post the Sydney Olympics in 2000. Geet directly went to meet Prakash Padukone in Bengaluru and they realized that Indian athletes needed a dedicated team working behind the scenes 24X7 to look after their training needs: coaches, physiotherapists, nutritionists, sports psychologists, injury management experts, to say the least. The two of them got together and started Olympic Gold Quest in 2001. Soon enough, many corporate leaders also joined the cause to help Indian athletes win Olympic gold medals.

Lakshya is an exceptional talent; PPBA and OGQ started supporting him right from the time when he was just 10 years old. He is very dedicated and naturally gifted but most importantly, he is very level headed and does not get carried away. Lakshya has truly announced his arrival on the world stage, but the greater challenge for him begins now. From my own experience, I can say with conviction that reaching the highest level is difficult, but the bigger challenge is staying at that level as it requires a lot more effort and mental strength.

My journey to the Olympic podium was very hard, especially in the last 2 years during the pandemic. I contracted covid a few months before the Olympics and the OGQ team really helped me in my treatment & recovery as I was all alone in Delhi. 43 days before the Tokyo Olympics, I had a serious ankle ligament strain & OGQ helped me in my rehab to get me fully fit. I am hungry to now change the colour of my medal in Paris 2024.

OGQ provided me with full-fledged sports science support for my training for the 2020 Tokyo Olympics, especially with the physiotherapist, sports psychologist & nutritionist. In the 2016 Rio Olympics, I couldn't make a successful lift for which sports psychologist Mugdha Bavare helped me overcome my fear and I went into Tokyo as a very confident athlete. The physiotherapist ensured that I was able to manage all my injuries in the leadup to Tokyo. I am grateful to OGQ for such strong sports science support which is crucial in Weightlifting.

OGQ stated supporting me when I was just 15 years old. I was struggling a lot with my fitness and injuries until OGQ physio Zeba and nutritionist Sharmada started working with me. The video analysis support from OGQ has helped me refine my technique further. I have won a silver medal in U-20 World Championship medal in 2021 and now my focus is on the Paris 2024 Olympics.

I consider myself extremely fortunate to have received support from OGQ at a time when only my family and coach were supporting me. Through OGQ's support, I was able to train at a high level as they provided our academy with shuttles, training, a gym, and recovery equipment. Their support also allowed me to follow a proper diet which kept me fit and ready for all my tournaments especially the Paralympics in Tokyo.
